VERVE RALLY

Driving a supercar through the European countryside is one of those dreams you and your buds always harboured, but knew probably wouldn't happen past your 20s. Which is why the launch of Verve Rally, by London-based Darshana and Marcus Ubl, in India is pretty exciting. Drive your own supercar or rent one (think Aston Martin, Ferrari, Morgan, Jaguar, Maserati, Bentley), through a loosely curated itinerary, that includes staying at five-star hotels and having access to incredible parties and experiences along the way. This year, they're offering a five-day trip in July that takes you to chateaux across France, or a nine-day road trip in September across seven countries, with stops in Reims (the champagne capital), Nice, Monaco, Lake Como, Lucerne, Frankfurt and Bruges. It's the closest you'll get to living your dream. ververally.com →
